To whom it may concern,

I have known Ann-marie for over 3 years and have had a lot to do with her over this time.

Ann-marie is a very trust worthy person and extremely responsible. When I have asked her to organize something for me it is done extremely well, on time, and always to a high standard. She is extremely trust worthy and efficient in whom she is as a person.

Recently (January 2016) Ann-marie lost her husband in a fatal car accident. Walking with her through this experience has shown me, even more of her understanding, compassionate heart for people who have to walk this unfortunate inevitability of separation from our loved ones. She is a very kind hearted woman with a very high work ethic.

I would highly recommend her for any job that would come her way that involves organizing, hard work and a compassion for people.

If you have any questions or would like to talk further about Ann-marie please contact me on the numbers below.

Yours sincerely,
